Fall Thru Entertainment announces the release of the latest installment of the popular home video series: 'Hardcore Raw & Uncut'. Of the fight series, this new DVD takes the most brutal glimpse to date at the violence on the everyday streets of America. The DVD will be available in stores on May 16. 'Hardcore Raw & Uncut' delivers more of the horrors of the streets showcasing pimp beatings, gang warfare, backyard brawls and female slug-outs caught on tape; even Skinheads battle hip-hop gang bangers on this explosive DVD

In one scene, a young woman is relentlessly beaten in a parking lot. A bystander attempts to stop the attack, begging, "She doesn't even know what's going on"! Despite these cries for help the beating continues until the victim is knocked unconscious and taken to the hospital. According to cameraman & producer Doorag this is an everyday event, "We're just following the crowd and seeing how it goes down, punch by punch".

'Hardcore Raw & Uncut' features shocking footage of young men and women being jumped into gangs, shootings, and gang beatings with an arsenal ranging from knives to Mack-10's. Among the highlights on 'Hardcore Raw & Uncut': a searing sequence where Skinheads come to town to face off with gang members and violence ensues.

Fall Thru Entertainment has had tremendous success already with the 'Fight' brand, having previously released the multi-platinum series, 'Ghetto Fights' and 'Wildest Street Brawls', which have sold over one million units combined. In the world of DVD sales, this makes each of the previous three releases multi-platinum status. With the hype that has been generated on these titles, 'Hardcore Raw & Uncut' promises to be more disturbing, graphic, and violent.
