Hot 97 DJ Angie Martinez spoke with rapper Benzino the other day about hip hop's Eminem and his willingness to squash the beef that he and his crew are involved in.. As you know in the song "Toy Soldier", Em claims he wants to move on from all the craziness that has taken place over the past year... He feels the record labels and other outside entities including the media are making money off these beefs and it leaves everyone damaged..

Angie got a hold of Benzino (co-owner of the Source Magazine) who has been leading the charge against Eminem...

here's what was said in that conversation...
