Custom Made, the LA-based hip-hop collective, has released their sixth mixtape, THE BLACKBOARD JUNGLE. Once again, the hip-hop group Custom Made is back with another dose of reality-based hardcore hip-hop music.

Custom Made, the group that continuously brings hardcore hip-hop to the Los Angeles scene is back with their sixth official mixtape, The Blackboard Jungle. This mixtape is the latest installment from their critically acclaimed Street Cinema mixtape series and delivers more of the lyrical hardcore they are well known for. Once again, Custom Made offers fans another dose of reality-based authentic hip-hop music.

Drawing comparisons to hip-hop and rap groups Mobb Deep and Wu-Tang, Custom Made has become notorious in the streets for their brutally honest depiction of street life and Los Angeles lifestyle. With their name currently spreading like wildfire and the support from key industry players, Custom Made is well on their way to bringing hardcore rap back to Los Angeles. Their all out assault on the LA mixtape scene has allowed the five man group to display their unique sound.

This time around Custom Made decided to collaborate with the hottest underground producers from all over the globe. This international project features Custom Made working alongside producers from the United States, Australia, France, Italy, United Kingdom and Germany. This unique project showcases the global awareness of hip-hop music and shows that it has no boundaries when it comes to making quality music.
