TLA-PROnline.com is a place where Independent Rap, Hip-Hop and Spoken Word Artist are represented.

There are many good artists out today and many do not get the recognition they deserve or you never hear of them because they are not signed to a major.

More and more we are being sold the same artist with the same beats and we all know there is more of a 'pool' of artist than what the mainstream and the major's are trying to force feed us.

Hip-Hop is changing, but the faces seem to be the same. True Hip-Hop is being lost to the corporations and it is becoming a money game, and the messages that we need to be hearing are censored and denied to be put on wax.

Most of us know that the 'underground' hip-hop music is a lot fresher than much of the major stuff out now. We hope to provide a place to give exposure to not only hip-hop and rap artists but also spoken word artist.

So if you are an un-signed artist looking for a little exposure or you know an artist on the grind hit us up and list him or her here.

We can also offer press release help and other help in areas to help them get a little exposure. We also can help with graphics for their sites or releases.

Hopefully we can help make a difference in what we are exposed to. Visit regularly and check out some of the artist we list, and as the list grows we will mark our success stories as well.

Remember that there is more music out there than what we are being sold by the majors and with stiff competition the artist who are signed to the majors will have to step up their game to
